"BUNKO"-A NEW CHICAGO SWINDLE.-The latest production of the cheats is a game called "bunko." There are two of these "bunko" rooms on Washington street, one east of Clinton and the other west of Desplaines. Several of these swindlers combine, and all but one or two act as "runners" or "ropers in," and visit the hotels and other much frequented places in search of the unwary stranger. Last week one of these "ropers" fell in with a Californian who had plenty of shekels. The roper plied him freely with liquor, and after visiting several saloons, informed him that he had a lottery ticket which he was going to present at an office on West Washington street. The Californian readily assented to the invitation to visit the place, and the "roper" took him to one of the "bunko" rooms. Here they met a business-like man, who stood behind a counter, and the roper, in a stranger-like manner, produced his ticket and asked if it had drawn a prize. The clerk examined some books, apparently, and said it had hit upon $300 in gold. And the money was paid right over to the roper, as if the clerk had never seen him before. This astonished the Californian, of course. The roper also received a number of small tickets, and went into a back room, followed by his dupe. Here was a nicely finished board, containing stars, crescents, figures, &c., and a man in charge of it. The repor "played in" his tickets and won some money. This so excited the Californian that he readily purchased some tickets played them in and lost. And he played a long time, so long that $1,900 was ex-veller, who had spent years in accumulating the sum lost. While playing the dealer would allow him to win occasionally, for it is a game which the former has full control of. Thus goaded on, the stranger lost all he was possessed of, and went away without a knowledge of the swindle. Others have been victimized by

by these "bunko" players, and have no redress

SWIMMING ACADEMIES IN PARIS.—Swimming academies are an institution in Paris. They are both numerous and well attended; and no wonder, for they are kept in the very best style, being neat, clean, and comfortable, and the conveniences afforded the visitor for plunging, diving, springing, turning somersaults, and peforming other gymnastics in and out of the water, are plentifully provided, so that the frequenter of these baths, whether he is learning to swim or is a practiced swimmer, whether he is bold or timid, or whether he is a slow, lazy blundering fellow, wanting to take things at his ease, or active and athletic, and wants to show off, finds everything suited to his inclinations. These baths are of various grades, to which the admission varies, in some being a few sous or centimes, while in others it is as many francs. The object of the high prices in some is to secure exclusiveness and attract the best classes of customers. Spectators are admitted to these academics, which partake somewhat of the characteristics of the restaurants or coffee houses. Cigars, brandy absynthe, etc., are furnished. At all times during the day, but especially about five o'clock in the afternoon-when the rush is greatest and there is scarcely standing room for the crowd, and all the cabins are taken in advance, sometimes by two or three persons-may be seen visitors in long white gowns sitting, standing, leaning, lying down in all conceivable positions and at-titudes, smoking pipes, drinking or chatting with friends. These rarely, if ever swim, and it is not uncommon for one of them, when they do go in, if a rain happens to come up, to rush into his cabin for his umbrella, and, returning to the water, hold it over his head with one hand and swim or paddle about with the WINE MAKING.-If any one would enjoy themselves with a trip to the country let them wait the vine harvest and visit some of our grape vineyards, and note the process of gathering the grapes and making wine. The imagination pictures the vineyard filled with joyous maidens in their peasant costumes plucking the purple clusters and carrying them in over-burdened basket to the great tub, where the must is pressed with the white feet of laughing girls-not labor, but rolicking, jolly fun from rosy morn to dewy evening, to be concluded with a dance and harvest feast. Such is the poetry of wine-making, written when full of the rosy fluid-a brain reeling under the influence of the vinous god. We have been there and seen the process. A mule team, with low-wheeled wagon, filled with dirty tubs; grapes ripe and rotten, filled with leaves and covered with dust, plucked by the stony hand of greasers, and trod out at the press by a gang of half-naked Indians, the pulpy mass of grapes and stems and leaves trod knee-deep by bigfooted, crooked-toed aboriginals, as the ox treads the clay for brick, or as, in earlier times, he trod the thrashing floor. Fortunate thing that nature, through its process of fermentation, purifies the filthy mess, and there comes from the dirty mixture the pure and sparkling wine. San Francisco Chronicle.

TERRIBLE MAYHEM. -The Scranton Republican says: We are called upon to chronicle one of the most infamous, heartless, and brutal attempts at murder that has taken place in this valley for years. Edward R. Jones, an Englishman by birth, aged about fifty five years, and inside boss at Carbon Hill Colliery, between Taylorville and Lackawanna stations, was attacked by seven men, yesterday morning, between 6 and 7 o'clock, when on his way to work, and cut and beaten in such a shocking manner that it is thought he cannot recover. The fiends cut off both his ears, cut him seven times in the head with some sharp instrument, and a contused wound on the back of the head, broke and one shoulder showed evidence of being struck with a large stone. It was in a dense woods where the crime was committed, and over a quarter of a mile from any habitation.

They left him for dead, no doubt, or thought would be found; but Mr. Jones managed to walk or crawl a distance of a quarter of a mile to a neighbor's house, and was lying on the steps when found in an independent of the step when t him so badly injured that he would die before steps when found in an unconscious state.

DR. JOHNSTON. Member of the Royal College of Surgery of Member of the Royal Conege of Surgery of London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospi-tals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled wit ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, untitting them for either business, study, society or mar-

These are some of the sad and melancholy effeets produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dinness of Sight, Loss of muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symtoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.—Tre fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

YOUNG MEN Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply im-Mediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of devisting from the life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in pernicious nabits. Such persons must, before cointemplat-

MARRIAGE Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mlnd becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of when the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horred disease makes their appearance, such as delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, pro-gressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from sending him to that undiscovered country "from whence no traveller returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRE-TENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer month after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being reinjurious compounds, and instead of being re-stored to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happiness in despuir leaves him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment.
